

Arthur SpiveyU.S. Small Business Administration

Art Spivey has been Chief of the Investment Division's Licensing Unit since July 2002. In his current position he is responsible for the supervision of analysts in their review and processing of SBIC license applications. Before taking on his latest assignment, Art was a gatekeeper in SBA's Office of Program Development from 1998-2002, where he was responsible for evaluation of the professional qualifications of prospective SBIC managers. He has also worked as an analyst in both the Licensing and Liquidation units of the Investment Division. Prior to joining the Investment Division, Art worked for five years with SBA's Office of Financial Management as a systems accountant. He holds a Bachelor's degree in business administration/management from Troy State University and an MBA in finance from Johns Hopkins University.