

Les Alexander is an experienced private equity investor, mezzanine lender, corporate executive, and investment banker. He has significant knowledge of private equity and mezzanine investing having worked at Advantage Capital Partners and MSB Fairway Capital Partners prior to joining Jefferson Capital. Les served on the board of directors of several portfolio companies where he was actively involved in strategic planning and corporate governance.

As an investment banker for 15 years with Howard Weil, Southcoast Capital, J.C. Bradford & Co., and LeCorgne Loewenbaum, Les completed over 50 public offerings of debt and equity securities, private placements, and merger and acquisition transactions totaling more than $7 billion for public and private companies in a variety of industries.

Les is a faculty member at Tulane University and Loyola University in New Orleans where he teaches graduate and undergraduate classes in finance. Les is a governing board member of the Small Business Investor Alliance (SBIA) and previously held the positions of SBIA southern region president, vice president, and secretary. Les founded the Louisiana chapter of the Association for Corporate Growth (ACG), served as its first chapter president, and remains an active board member. He was the Chairman of Finance on the global board of ACG, a member of its global board of directors, and Chairman of the 2016 InterGrowth conference. Les received the ACG global Meritorious Service Award and the ACG Louisiana Outstanding Service Award.

Les received his bachelor of science in Commerce from the University of Virginia in 1989 and his MBA from the University of North Carolina in 1993.