

Nate Kirk
Everside Capital Partners

Nate is a founder and Managing Partner of Everside. Prior to Everside, Nate spent six years at Third Avenue Management where he was a Portfolio Manager of the Focused Credit Fund, which managed over $3 billion in credit investments. During his tenure, the fund invested in over 70 restructurings, many of which included roles with active board involvement. His focus was on distressed, stressed, and performing credit opportunities in the chemicals, consumer products, education, healthcare, industrial services, oil services, and transportation industries in the U.S. and Europe.

Previously, Nate spent seven years at J.P. Morgan, most recently as a research analyst covering high yield issuers. Prior to his role in investment research, Nate worked on the emerging markets trading desk where he traded Mexican, Turkish and Russian sovereign bonds and options as well as corporate debt. He also worked with the Principal Finance team performing due diligence for purchasing and securitizing non-performing loans in the United Kingdom and Germany.

Nate holds an M.A. in Economics from Cambridge University and is a CFA® charterholder. He holds dual undergraduate degrees in Economics and Political Science from Yale University.
